ROSENBAUM AND MENDEL FIRE

Three Firemen Injured—Fast Work by Department Prevents What Threatened to Be General Conflagration.

Three firemen suffered injuries and property damage estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000 resulted from a fire that originated at dawn Tuesday night in the upper portion of the four-story building of the Rosenbaum & Mendel furniture and house furnishings store, 154 South Main street, a three-floor and basement building.

Fire Had Fine Start.

Firemen hurt were: Capt. Ernest Williams, of the No. 2 motor pump company, who was struck by the right hand from falling glass; in the General hospital.

Carl G. Wachs, of the No. 2 truck, on both hands from falling glass. Sylvester Hagerty, pumperman of the No. 1 chemical company, overcame by smoke.

A night patrolman of the Burns water company, according to his Mendel, discovered the fire on the lower floor at the rear, near the elevator shaft. The alarm was rung at five o'clock. Chief Fitzmorris answered the first alarm, which also brought the Nos. 3, 4 and 5 engines, 1 and 2 trucks, 1 chemical and water tower companies.

By this time the flames had leaped up the elevator shaft and had taken hold on all three floors of the Rosenbaum & Mendel main building, owned by the Philip Frankell estate. Firemen ordered a second alarm that brought the Nos. 1, 4, 7, 10 and 12 engines and the Nos. 1 and 2 trucks, 1 chemical and water tower companies.

The building is damaged around $15,000 according to the estimate of the firemen and the stock of goods in the main building, some $20,000 or $25,000. Firms in the lower floors, including the furniture company—Log Cabin, billiards and cafe, 152 Main; three upper floors used by furniture company, Stiemmer Brothers, shoes, 153 Main; two upper floors used by furniture company, Stiemmer Brothers, shoes, 153 Main; two upper floors used by furniture company, Stiemmer Brothers, shoes, 153 Main; two upper floors used by furniture company, Stiemmer Brothers, shoes, 153 Main.

U. S. Minister to Poland Says Germans Exaggerate Anti-Jew Trouble

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Reports thus far received of the alleged massacres of Jews in Poland and other countries of eastern Europe justify a rebuke to the governments of those countries by the United States, Representative Siegel, Laguardia and Goldfogle, all of New York, declared today at a hearing before the house foreign affairs committee on resolutions relating to the alleged ill treatment.

POGROM REPORTS MUCH MAGNIFIED

The new Polish government in turn was defended against the pogrom charges by Representative Kleczka, of Wisconsin, who asserted that reports of massacres were of "German origin, designed to show that Poland was incapable of self-government. The Poles in this country, he asserted, courted an investigation of their native land.

Co-operation Is Sought.

W. H. Fitzhugh, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said that as the executive head of that body, he believed the chamber would be prepared to act in all such movements, and that while the funds of the chamber are limited, an extensive investigation could not be undertaken unless funds are provided. He believed that in this matter of city funds, the bureau of municipal research, organized nearly 10 years ago, which made several surveys of the city, would be of great assistance, and its services can be had if wanted.

COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE CITY'S FINANCES

be dispensed with and whether by decreasing the forces in some departments, a saving cannot be made without a reduction in efficiency.

A similar investigation will be made later as to county finances, but probably the entire time of those members of the committee who conduct the investigation will be given to city finances for the coming two weeks.

The city tax rate ordinance is ready for passage, while the county tax rate will not be taken up until the meeting of the county court in July.

It is admitted that nearly 50 per cent of the proposed 40-cent increase in city tax rate, is mandatory, as a higher tax for city schools, from 25 to 30 cents, was provided for by legislative act. The county library tax was also increased from three to four cents, and increased salaries were fixed for the members of the police department. It was argued, however, at meetings of the committee from the Real Estate association, which presented the general meeting Monday night, that as a general rule, the increased assessments ought to take care of increasing city expenditures.

C. C. Fashby, city clerk, when asked as to the probable time required for the investigation, said it could certainly be completed within two weeks, and that every fact for the committee would be provided and every record at the city hall will be open to them.

J. M. Duan, president of the real estate association, was named as a member of the general committee and as its executive committee.

More than 50 well-known men attended the meeting, some merely as taxpayers, some as members of the various organizations. Among the commercial and civic groups represented were the Chamber of Commerce, Real Estate association, Cotton exchange, Merchants exchange, Contractors' association, Builders exchange, City club, Rotary club, Kiwanis club, Y. M. C. A., Junior Chamber, Shelby County Medical society, Memphis Association of Credit Men, Evergreen club, Commercial club, Lamar-Martin club, Trinity Social club, Lamar Heights Civic club, Speedway Tennis club.

Mr. Dean presided and L. D. Scott acted as secretary.

ALLIES WILL STAND FIRM ON PROPOSALS OF PEACE TO HUN

right and justice and for assistance to the allies over the trouble. He said he would examine the terms of the allies' proposal and do his best to work out a peace on such a basis.

The new republic of Austria was free from the old unfortunate traditions of the Hapsburg monarchy and from the horrible crimes of 1914. Dr. Renner declared that Austria desired to take her modest part in the work of the league of nations.

Premier Clemenceau's brief remarks were confined to explaining the time limits for the reply and the method of further negotiations and proceedings. "Messieurs Les Plénipotentiaires of the Austrian republic," M. Clemenceau began, "the allies and associated powers have charged me to remit you the draft of the treaty which has been elaborated among us. It is not the signature draft, for I shall have reserves to make, but it constitutes at least the principal parts on which you can forthwith deliberate."

Col. E. M. House was the only one of the American delegation not present at the session.

The translation of Premier Clemenceau's and "Chancellor Renner's" speeches into three languages occupied the larger part of the session. It adjourned at 11:40 o'clock after having occupied 52 minutes.

The Austrian plenipotentiary, speaking in French as a concession to his hosts, did not seek to exhaust the subject of the former Austrian-Hungarian government "for the horrible crime of 1914."

He asked only that the full weight of the punishment should not fall solely on the little mountain republic, which was all that was left of the once mighty Austria, but that it be regarded as only one of the eight new republics into which the old monarchy had been divided and that it be apportioned no more of the penalty than it could bear.

one of the museum cases, and the blunders of the French official translator, who twice during the brilliant translation of the speech went astray, causing gasps of mingled horror and amusement, also impaired the formal dignity of the scene.

It was the same sitting as the one at the Triumvirate at Versailles, although on a reduced scale.

The Japanese and Chinese delegates were the first to arrive in the stone-walled room and take their places at the table. They were closely followed by M. Clemenceau, who came early.

The others filed in rapidly several minutes before noon, and all the plenipotentiaries were in their places except President Wilson and Col. House.

Finally an official was sent to the telephone to learn if anything had happened. The president appeared at 12:12 and took his seat after a brief colloquy with M. Clemenceau. Word was immediately sent to the headquarters of the Austrians.

They entered, one by one, in minutes later, through a door at the rear of the hall. The head usher of the foreign office, wearing his silver chain, announced the appearance of the Austrian plenipotentiaries.

Dr. Renner was calm and assured, as if entering his own house. He walked directly to his seat and motioned his colleagues to their places. The entire assembly, which had risen up on the entry of the Austrians, seated itself. M. Clemenceau alone remained standing, and with scarcely an instant's pause the session started.

M. Clemenceau refrained from any political allusion in his short speech; he merely outlined the procedure of the negotiations and explained that only part of the treaty was ready.

He asked that any replies or observations to such parts of the treaty as were laid today before the Austrians be submitted in writing within 15 days.

At the end of his speech he called for translations, which on this occasion were given in Italian as well as German and English.

The French official who attempted the German rendition opened by addressing "the delegations of the republic of Austria," which he was immediately stopped and the diplomatic blunder in the apparent recognition of the German attributes of the new republic corrected.

The translator was now so nervous that presently he was caught telling the Austrians that their replies must be verbal instead of written.

Dr. Karl Renner, head of the Austrian delegation, rose to reply at the end of the translation, but M. Clemenceau waved him to his seat to permit M. Pataki, secretary of the conference, to place before him the text of the skeleton draft of the treaty. The Austrian delegate then rose and read his

Watch Your Kidneys for After-War Ills

Influenza and Wartime Strains have left Thousands with Weak Kidneys

WE must see to it that the years 1918-1919 do not leave the curse of kidney disease that followed the Civil War. The most common causes of kidney weakness are fevers, colds, exposure, overwork, worry and unwholesome diet, and our two war winters have been full of these conditions for both soldier and civilian. Pay attention to the first signs of kidney weakness—backache, rheumatic pains, dizzy spells, headache and any abnormal action. Use Doan's Kidney Pills promptly. It may save you from a later attack of gravel, stone, cystitis, dropsy or Bright's disease, and in Doan's you will get the most widely used kidney remedy in the world. It is the remedy recommended by the people for the people.

These Memphis Cases Prove Doan's Good:

East Georgia Street

Henry S. Heuer, millwright, 475 E. Georgia St., says: "I had kidney and bladder trouble for about twenty years and suffered a lot from backache and trouble with the kidney secretions. My kidneys acted too frequently. I felt weak and sore and didn't have strength enough to stand on my feet very long. It nearly killed me to sleep and I had blinding, dizzy spells. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Renkert & Co's drug store and took them as directed. They fixed me up in good shape and I went back to work feeling O. K. I have recommended Doan's on many occasions since."

Mississippi Avenue

Mrs. J. S. Weaver, 722 Mississippi Ave., gave the following statement in June, 1916: "My kidneys were weak and inactive and showed different signs of being disordered. I felt dull and languid, too. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and they regulated my kidneys and relieved all symptoms of kidney trouble."

Gaston Avenue

Mrs. C. O. Marr, 284 Gaston avenue, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I felt dull and languid. I tired easily. My kidneys didn't act properly and my condition was pretty bad. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon made me feel all right again. I have never had to take a kidney remedy since that time, and I wish to confirm my former endorsement."

North Dunlap Street

J. W. Leflar, retired mason contractor, 717 N. Dunlap St., says: "I am getting along in years and one is more or less inclined to have trouble with their kidneys. Anytime I have had backache or a disordered condition of my kidneys I always take Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon make me feel all right again. I have recommended Doan's on many occasions, for I have great faith in this medicine."

Mississippi Avenue

The above statement was given June 29, 1916, and on April 27, 1918, Mrs. Marr added: "I have the same good opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills now as when I endorsed them before. I have never had to take a kidney remedy since that time, and I wish to confirm my former endorsement."
